THE CORSET CORNER.

THE INVESTIGATION YESTERDAY BEFORE MR. CONSTABLE, THE MERCHANT APPRAISER. The exclusive publication in yesterday's HERALD of e alleged undervaluation of woven corsets, imported gh the Custom House, created a lively exciteent about the public stores, corner Hubert and reenwich streets, yesterday. For months the govat officers have carefully guarded from the press he fact that any goods had been ordered into the pub stores for reappraisement, but it fell to the lot of a HERALD reporter to get at the facts, while District Atorney Bliss was in Washington testifying before a Conpressional committee regarding matters that, it is

As announced in yesterday's HERALD, an examin tion was begun yesterday by General Ketcham, General Appraiser at the storehouse, Mr. James M. Constable of Arnold & Constable, being the merchant appraiser to ake testimony and report

derstood, will interest the late Attorney General

The HERALD reporter learned that one witness who was before the merchant appraiser yesterday was Mr. W. Rothschild, of the late firm of Ottenheimer, Rothschilds & Co., who had formerly been in the corset childs & Co., who had formerly beed in the corsets business.

This information was obtained from a member of the late firm, who had also been summoned as an expert, and was then waiting to be called. This gentleman stated that he was satisfied that the government had lost $725,000 annually by legislating in the interest of domestic manufacturers of corsets. His house, he said, had imported as many as 5,000 dozen per month while in the business, which they had finally abandoned because domestic manufacturers imported bone and other material free of duty, and so were enabled to unsersel; them. The gentleman was very anxious to volunteer this information, and as he has not yet testified before the appraiser his statement is at least interesting.

before the appraiser his statement is at least interesting.

J. Rosenbaum, of Rosenbaum & Freidman, of San Francisco, was subsequently examined as to the valuation of the goods invoiced, but, as he admitted that he was not an expert, he was not detained any length of time.

Among others who had been summoned and were in attendance were Mr. Sargeant, of A. T. Stewart & Co.; Julius Hart, formerly an importer of corsets, and A. Wimpfheimer, of Wimpfheimer & Brothers, No. 198 Church street. It is understood that about ten experts in all will be called, and upon their testimony will largely depend the solution of the question whether the German importers and manufacturers have combined to swindle the government by invoicing at low valuations, or whether the matter is son started by demestic manufacturers with the object of driving importers of the foreign article out of the business. A few days of investigation will doubtless settle the point.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The Board of Police Commissioners held a special meeting yesterday. Leave of absence for four days was granted to Superintendent Walling, and the senior inector was directed to act as Superintendent during Board from the Superintendent of the American District Telegraph Company, complaining that officers interfered with their private watchmen when they used their clubs for purposes of signals, threatening in some instances to arrest them. Yesterday the Board sent a reply to the same, stating that it is directly in violation of law for any erson not an officer of the Police Department to wear the uniform or equipments of such. Oftentimes, especially at night, the watchmen of the Telegraph Comcially at night, the watchmen of the Telegraph Company are mistaken for members of the department because of the similarity of uniforms. The use of a system of signals by raps with a club by any private watchman or organized body of such cannot, the communication states, but result in misunderstanding and annoyance to the officers on post. The letter, in conclusion, intimates that unless the Telegraph Company discontinue the use of police aniforms and clubs by their employes every man caught wearing the same will be arrested.

The Commissioners state that these private watchmen are the cause of much trouble to the department. They give their signal rap when and where they please, and policemen on post, unable to distinguish them from a call from brother officers in need of help, rush to the rescue, to the neglect of their patrol.

It is also claimed that the watchmen, being in uniform closely resembling the police dress, have an opportunity, if they so desire, to pass themselves off as policemen upon unsuspecting persons.

WALLKILL BANK DEFALCATION.

The suit of Comptroller of the Currency Knox against the estates of William M. Graham and Charles H. Horton, the defaiting ex-president and ex-cashier of the Walikill National Bank, is ended. All the testimony having been taken in the case Mr. John Bur-roughs, the receiver of the broken bank, made applica-tion to Register Little vesterday for a decision. The Register allowed a claim on behalf of the bank against the estate of Graham for $172,551 67, and against the estate of Horton for $178,131 80.

DARING BURGLARY IN BROOKLYN.

Yesterday forenoon Mr. J. Leary, proprietor of the gentlemen's furnishing store No. 245 Fulton street, called at the office of Police Superintendent Campbell and reported that his establishment had been mysteriously entered by burglars and robbed of stock to the value of $2,325. The robbery was committed some time between eleven o'clock on Saturday night and time between eleven o'clock on Saturday night and night o'clock yesterday morning. At the latter about the salesman opened the door and at once noticed signs of confusion. A lew boxes were lying empty on the floor, while others had been depleted of their contents and replaced on the shelves. The thieves were so well able to discriminate between the various articles that they took only the most valuable. A light was burning in the store from Saturday night till yesterday, and the officer on that post tried the door regularly each hour. The police say that the burglars were undoubtedly professionals, and that they opened the door with skeleton keys. They no doubt worked at their lessure in assorting the plunder during daylight on Sunday. Mr. Leafy is satisfied that the plunder could have been carried off in a couple of large values, as the bulk would not be great. Several of the best detectives have the case in hand.

FIRE IN CLIFF STREET.

Shortly after seven o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the basement of No. 95 Cliff street, occupied by S. W. Green, printer. Before the first detach-ment of engines had get fairly to work it became evisent that they could not cope with the flames, which were spreading with rapidity. A second alarm was, therefore, telegraphed and soon reinforcements were on the scene. The fire was at length got under control and shortly atterward extinguished. The following are the losses:—Basement, S. W. Green, printer, $0.000; first floor, M. M. Kelton & Ca., machinery, $3,000; first floor, for, and third floor, E. P. Kuriz, manifacturer of jeweiters' tools, $3,000; second floor, from and first floors, E. P. Kuriz, manifacturer of jeweiters' tools, $3,000; second floor, rear, Taylor & Bassemire, metal spinners, $200; lourth and fith floors, Charles B. Forrest, engraver, $100.

The building, which is owned by Gray & Green, was damaged to the extent of $5,000. The losses are mainly covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

BOOKS FOR THE HOSPITALS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-Notwithstanding the very generous response to our ppeal of last autumn for books, magazines and weekly apers for the inmates of hospitals and other instituions, our supply is beginning to fail, and we must nece more beg the public to remember how much dessure books which they no longer care to read steasure books which they no longer care to read will give to the sick and weary.
